Early Field

or the on-line
code of Ethics"

Each software contains various questions and assignments regarding the content of the law school's code. Every student in our law school is required to pass two software every year. Total of 6 in the entire degree. Every few years the software need to be changed so I write a new ones.

During 2017 I intend to write 2 new software to replace the existing ones for second year students.

2. From 2011 till today: Developing a unique database on legal ethics and lawyers' professional responsibility. The database is open free to the public via the David Weiner center's web-site. The data contains case law with abstracts written by me, articles and various publications all according to key-words that I developed.
